

Earnings and Results Disclaimer

Breezy Growth LLC · Effective October 30, 2026

This disclaimer applies to our website, decks, one-pagers, proposals, emails and any other material we publish or send.

1. Earnings and results

Breezy Growth LLC ("Breezy Growth", "we", "us") makes no guarantee, representation or warranty of any specific revenue, profit, sales, pipeline, leads, meetings or other result. Figures, reply rates, case studies and examples on our website, decks, one-pagers and emails come from our own campaigns or from the named source, and they are dated. They are not typical or average results and are not a forecast. Your results depend on factors outside our control, including your offer, price, market, list, capacity to follow up, capital, execution and effort. You are responsible for your own business decisions and results.

2. What we commit to

Our commitments are the ones written in your signed agreement, such as coverage of an agreed list and a written review at day 90. Nothing on our website or in a deck adds to them. If anything here differs from a signed agreement, the agreement controls.

3. Third-party results and screenshots

Where we show results from a tool, platform or advertiser, such as an ads dashboard screenshot, the figures belong to that account and that period. They show what happened there, not what will happen for you.

4. No professional advice

Nothing we publish is legal, financial, investment, tax or accounting advice, or an offer to sell or a solicitation to buy any security. Any data licensing or profit-share arrangement is a commercial agreement governed only by its own signed terms. Speak to your own advisers before acting.

5. Forward-looking statements

Materials may describe plans, projections or expected timelines. These are estimates and actual results may differ materially.

6. Third-party names and marks

Names, logos and trademarks of other companies and tools belong to their owners and are shown to identify them. Showing them does not mean those companies endorse, sponsor or are affiliated with Breezy Growth.
